Eric:

The two spoons enclosed belonged to Mr. & Mrs. S. S. Crosby.

I was given a set of 12 by Mrs. McGlenen

I wanted all the contributors, to your E.A.C. introduction of the last reprint, to have a lovely set of these little coffee spoons which belonged to "The Crosby's", of Sacramento St. Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Eric Newman

Hi Eric:

I saw your name in "Out on a Limb" and said to myself, Robert drop Eric a note.

I seem to be doing O.K. still collecting and having a little strike once in a while.

I went to a local book auction a month ago. A M Smiths copy of Crosby's C a Coins sold $900., no maris plate I got lucky after the sale and located a man who got two box lots I bought 2 books from him 1864 John Allan Sale, "Library", Eric the nicest hand priced and full names in fancy script, I've never seen a nicer. + Charles Bushnells Library which was sold in april of 1883. The first I've ever seen The frontis portrait same as the political token book plate of him.

you must have seen that my Crosby items are for sale, I guess the time had come I certainly enjoyed them

Take care Best Bob Wester
